Every Woman Should Know
There are three entirely different kinds of baking powder, namely:
(1) Cream of tartar, derived from grapes;
(2) Alum, a mineral acid; and
(3) Phosphate of Lime.
(1) Baking Powders made of Cream of Tartar add to the food the same healthful qualities that exist in the ripe grapes from which Cream of Tartar is derived.
(2) Baking Powders made of Alum add to the food some form of Alum or Aluminum, a heavy metal, wholly foreign to any natural article of food.
(3) Phosphate of Lime is made from rock or by burning bones which by chemical action are changed into a white, powdered acid. It is used in baking powder only because it is a cheaper substitute.

A Cream of Tartar powder never contains Alum or Phosphate.
Every housekeeper should read the names of the ingredients printed on the label and know what she is using.

Brother-in-Law of Woodrow Wilson

M. H. Maury, Wealthy Virginia Stock Farmer, Suddenly Leaps Into Prominence.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BRISTOL, VA., November 1.—M. H. Maury, a wealthy stock breeder and farmer, who owns near Bristol one of the finest blue-grass farms in Virginia, is soon to become a brother-in-law of President Woodrow Wilson. Mrs. Maury, who spends a part of her time on the stock farm here and a part in Anniston, Ala., is a sister of Mrs. Norman Galt. Mrs. Maury is at present visiting in Kentucky. Mr. Maury, who has been here for three weeks, returned to Anniston to-day. He will be joined by Mrs. Maury, and later the two will come to their Bristol farm, and from here will go to Washington to attend the wedding of President Wilson and Mrs. Galt.

Mr. Maury had no idea that he was to become a brother-in-law of the President when, in advance of the Baltimore convention, he was using his influence to bring about the nomination of Underwood. But while he still admires Underwood, he has learned to love President Wilson with all the fervor that a brother-in-law should, and there can hardly be any doubt as to where Mr. Maury will stand when another Presidential nomination is at stake.

But Mr. Maury smiles when anybody suggests politics to him.
